SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

1. After hearing the Generalissimo's New Year broadcast, FU Tso-yi cancelled a circular telegram drafted for transmission to the Chinese Communists in which FU had given his stand on the military situation. () Both 25X1A2g
TENG Pao-shan and FU declined the Generalissimo's urgent request to attend meetings in Nanking.

2. The following continue their efforts to persuade FU to make a local settlement without reference to Nanking:

TENG Pao-shan (鄧寶珊)

Maj. Gen. LIU Hou-tung, FU's personal secretary (劉厚同)

Maj. Gen. HOU Shao-pai, FU's official secretary (侯少白)

PENG Tse-hsiang (彭澤湘)

A representative of the Kuomintang Revolutionary Committee (LI Chi-shen group)

FU treats these individuals with great consideration, but, feeling that they could not guarantee any terms made with the Chinese Communists, he is waiting to see if a national settlement is possible.

3. FU has received a telegram from PAI Chung-hai which proposed that FU (a) pick influential, politically independent personnel who can talk with the Chinese Communists; and (b) invite the four foreign powers to mediate in the China settlement.

25X1X6

4. LI Chi-shen's Peiping representatives are very active in enlisting new members among university professors and from industrial groups. () Comment. If the LI Chi-shen group continues to grow in influence, the Chinese Communists will consider them rivals and become hostile. This means that no matter what settlement is now made, local or national, it will not be final.)
